

Power of Positive Thinking

- Tamara Grantham

What's the number one stumbling block keeping writers from achieving their goals? If you said discouragement, you'd be right. Writers face a host of negativity the moment they start down their journey, so what's the best way to push through all this and achieve your goals? Author Tamara Grantham has been writing for over a decade, and she will share her tips and tricks on the best methods for beating the writer blues and sticking it out for the long run.